MORE OF HOGAN'S EXCISE RULINGS.

Three excise cases were brought before Justice Hogan in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday morning by men on impector McAvoy's staff. The first case was brought up by Policeman Rogers. He had arrested Edward Banze, of No. 21 Tenth-

"How did you get in?" asked the Justice.

"Side door," said Rogers. "Did you get anything to drink?"

"Yes, sir, I got whiskey."
Then the Justice brought out another rule, which, he declares, upholds the position he has taken. "Don't you know?" said he, "that rule 50 of the Police Department strictly prohibits an officer "Well," returned Rogers, "I was only obeying noon. Two other similar cases were adjourned to the same time.

Late yesterday afternoon Justice Howan announced that with the exception of two cases, which he proposes to make test cases, all the excise cases which had been brought before him were adjourned inderlately. He would announce later what disposition he would make of them. This action is regarded as a makeshift, for the Justice does not seem willing to change from the position he has taken on the excise question, and he is at the same time bound by the promise he gave his associates that he would not throw any excise cases out of court until after the next meeting of the Board of Justices, next Monday night. The examinations in the two cases in question will be held to-day

JUDGMENTS AGGREGATING NEARLY $1,500,000 ENTERED AGAINST J. B. AND

S. R. RITCHIE.

Cleveland, Oct. 23. Judge Augustus J. Ricks, sitting in the United States Circuit Court, Northern Ohio District, this morning decided the famous sui nvolving the owner-hip of millions of stock of the 'anadian Copper Company, Anglo-American Iron Company and Central Ontario Railway Company. The sult, which has been pending in the courts fo everal years, grew out of the manipulations of the stock of the three companies by James B. and Samuel R. Ritchie. Those interested in the deals with the Ritchies were ex-Senator H. B. Payne. Judge Burke, of Hocking Valley fame, the estate of H. M. Cornell, and J. B. and George McMullen. Ritchies sunk fortunes in the enterprises, and about $1,500,000 was borrowered from the other stock-holders named, the Ritchies giving large blocks of stock as coilateral. When the failure of the enterprises became apparent to even the most sangulae of the stockholders, the Ritchies were sued for the amounts borrowed. The counter claim of nearly $1,500,000 was set up for personal services of the Ritchies in the manipulation of the stocks. The best legal talent in the State was engaged in the trial of the case, and the fight was a bilter one. In deciding it his morning, Judge Ricks dissilowed all of the claims of the Ritchies and entered judgment against them as follows in favor of H. B. Payne, $250,000; Stevenson Eurke, $250,000; Cornell estate, $250,000; the McMullens, $250,000. The Ritchies have eleven days in which to liquidate the judgments. In event of their failure to do it, the collateral securities will be sold. The sale will be advertised in all the financial centres of the world. If the amount realized from the sale of the steks should exceed the amount of the judgments, the balance will be paid to the Ritchies; if there should be a deficit, securities held by the wife of S. R. Ritchie will be ordered sold by the Court. about $1,500,000 was borrowered from the other stock-

The new dormitory presented to Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J., by William Hoyt, of Stamford, Conn., and Samuel W. Bowne, of this city, was formally accepted by the trustees of the institution yesterday. A picture of this hands structure, which was erected at a cost of $120,000 appeared in The Tribune yesterday, together with a description of the building.

About 500 persons took part in the exercises yes terday. A special train, conveying the visitors from this city and Newark, left New-York by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at 9:30 clock, arriving at Madison at 10:30. Shortly be fore 11 o'clock the trustees and faculty, with their guests, assembled in Mead Hall, with which the chapel, lecture-rooms and offices of the seminary are connected. The faculty consists of the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Buttz, president; the Rev. Drs. John George R. Crooks and Samuel F. Upham. the Rev. Messrs. Robert W. Rogers and Charles F. Sitterly, and Professor H. W. Mains, S. F. Jones and the Rev. A. H. Goodstand, President Buttz called the assembly to order and invited the Resident Bishop, Dr. Andrews, of New-York, the first vice-president of the Board of Trustees, to preside, Bishop Andrews then announced that William Hoyt, the president of the board and one of the givers of the dormitory, was all at his home at Stamford, Conn., and was unable to be present, but that a letter of regret had been received from him, expressive of his heartlest sympathy in the welfaire of the seminary. President Buttz, after the introductory exercises, extended a warm welcome to the guests, and extended a warm welcome to the guests, and briefly outlined the present condition of the seminary, which, he said, was never so prosperous as now. He spoke of the many important benefactions which the institution had received, and especially of the maxhificent gift of the dormitory, which had come through the Christian sympathy and generosity of Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Bowne. He expressed much gratification over the action of the McClintock Association, of which Mrs. Clinton B. Flak is president, in undertaking the furnishing of the rooms and halls of the dormitory. The cost of this work, it is understood, will be between $5,000 and $6,000.

The New-York Free Circulating Library wanted $30,000. J. Frederick Kernocham, the president, made a long appeal in behalf of his claim. The Mayor opposed it on the ground that the library asked for more and more every year. When the library saked for more and more every year, when the library management increased the expense in that manner, he declared, the library ceased to be a public benefit. He moved that $20,000, the same as last year, be allowed. The motion was defeated and $25,000 was finally granted.

The Aguilar Free Library asked for and received $10,000, the same as last year. The Webster Free Library wanted $1,500, but got only $500.
